The essentials of fundamental moisturization

Glycerin

The most fundamental moisturizer recommended by skin experts

Glycerin, known as a representative moisturizing ingredient, moisturizes the skin to prevent the water from evaporating while sleeping.

Glycerin, similar to skin's natural shielding, attracts external moisture and forms a moisture shield on the skin to keep the skin bath healthy and glossy.

1,000 PPM of Norwegian glacier water

CELLVIO GLACIER PAD

Start and end of the day with the cellvio Glacier Pad to clean and smooth skin texture, and reduce skin temperature with Norwegian Glacier and Cooling Complex.

Cooling Glacier & Cooling Complex

A glacier pad made from clean Northern Europe's Norwegian glacier and cooling complex lowers skin temperature.

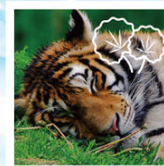

an excellent moisturizing resurrection

The "glyceryl glucoside" component of the resurrection plant, which miraculously comes to life when met with moisture in the extreme desert, improves skin moisture and component absorption and helps to hold tightness within the skin.

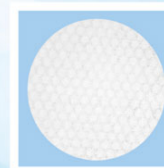

AHA, PHA for Exfoliating Exfoliation

Cellvio Glacier Pad uses AHA, PHA to loosen the connections of the stratum corneum and to soften the dead skin to induce a natural skin turnover.

CENTELLA ASIATICA that are excellent for skin calming

CENTELLA ASIATICA is also called tiger grass and has long been used as a folk remedy for wounds. The cellvio Glacier Pad contains 10,000 PPM of bottle glue to help soothe the skin.

Embo Pad Makes Skin Care Easy

Cellvio Glacier Pad has one side of embossed skin, so it is easy to exfoliate, cleanse skin texture, and remove waste matter. If it is smooth, it gives a soothing cooling sensation to the skin.
